UM EDUCATION COURSE OFFERED AT HELENA COLLEGE OF TECHNOLOGY MISSOULA--

Students at the Helena College of Technology of The University of Montana will have the opportunity this spring to enroll in a graduate-level leadership class taught by a professor from the UM-Missoula School of Education.

The three-credit course, EDLD 565 -- Secondary Level Leadership, will meet in room 214 of the Donaldson Building on four weekends: April 21-22, April 28-29, May 12-13 and May 19-20. The class, taught by education Associate Professor Jerry Lowe, will meet from 5 to 9 p.m. on Fridays and 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturdays.

This course may be used for administrative endorsements, certification and graduate credit. It is not one of the required course for the Master's of Education degree program expected to begin on the Helena campus in next fall.

The fee for EDLD 565 is $250. Because the course is self-supporting, a sufficient number of students must pay the fee by the April 14 advance registration deadline. Checks may be made payable to The University of Montana. When registering, students should attach a note to their payment indicating the course, location and instructor. Payment should be sent to Extended Study Programs, Center for Continuing Education, The University of Montana, Missoula, MT 59812; phone (406) 243-4626.
